

Igala Language Project

GivingTuesday Fundraiser

May 5 was GivingTuesday, but donations are welcome year round! May 5 was a special single day to stand together and help one another during the COVID-19 pandemic. A fledgeling NGO is about to launch itself into the daunting world of mother-tongue literacy for the Igala people of Nigeria, West Africa. It's a huge project, sorely needed, and full of difficulties.

The NGO's name is Centre for Igala Language and Culture. Your donations will help...

1. Fund the rent of an office where the books may be stored and the staff may work together. Provide office equipment and furniture so the staff can work more efficiently. We don't want this kind of set-up!

2. Buy books needed for the Centre's library. Fund the writing of a curriculum, text books, and lots of interesting books to explore and enjoy.

3. Provide a stipend for the staff who are already working like madmen to get it done.

4. Establish a demonstration nursery school or pre-school, and later primary and secondary school classes.

Right now COVID-19 in Nigeria is causing a disruption in travel, work, food supply and so much more. Let's come together to strengthen and encourage this little bird to leap out and fly.

Please donate. You'll make a difference whether you give $5 or $5,000. To donate online, go to www.partners-in-joy.org. Be sure to scroll to Igala Language Project in Our Ministries drop down list. Then use the Donate button to donate from your PayPal account, credit card, or bank account.

Please share this message with friends if you feel moved to do so.

Thank you, and God bless you!

Esther Nordman, Igala Language Project
Friday Ikani, Centre for Igala Language and Culture