From Daniel Edeh --

Iko and Chubiyo are miracles of God's grace!

These motherless twin baby girls were brought to MoM Otutulu critically ill on November 5, 2007 after the loss their mother and father. Their family had taken care of them for a while but decided to bring them to MoM, as the babies were dying. We transferred them from MoM Otutulu to our other home in Lokoja, closer to medical facilities. After several struggles they survived and are now doing well. Below are their before, later and current pictures.

On arrival – Nov, 2007

A few months later

Now in school

And caring for someone else!

Please keep the management and staff in your prayers as they rescue little ones like these. Pray for health, strength, grace, wisdom and for the supply of all the things they need for this great ministry. THANK YOU!

For all Caroline's children,
