Thanksgiving announcement:

Philip Noah has joined the team!

Our families have known each other since the late 1970's. He says he learned a great deal about his own language (Igala) while working with my dad. Philip is a secondary school teacher who serves Christ in his local church and has a passion for teaching good Igala.

He feels the literacy project is so important that he is going to make time for it in spite of all his other duties. I am delighted to have his help!

Please pray for him. He's been very ill with malaria and typhoid for several months.

Thank you for caring!

Myself with Philip Noah and his wife and daughter.

For fluency and comprehension in reading the Igala Bible,
