

Psalm 126:5 Those who sow with tears will reap with shouts of joy.

Making the effort and carrying God's plan using different tools give us the result of reaping the fruits with joy.

Old AND NEW TESTAMENT PANORAMA COURSEP

Professor Jorge Gamboa taught a basic overview of the Old and New Testament. It was enjoyable and of great benefit, learning about God's divine plan with humanity.

Children's Event

We gathered about 15 children and together with the Sunday school teachers. The objective was to have the teachers practice what they had learned the previous month. It was beautiful to see how the biblical teaching touches the hearts of the children.

Testimony

For the September course one of the pastry students (Angela) participated in the devotional looking at the theme of Ruth and Naomi, and how both women had determined to return to their land and worship God despite the circumstances. Angela's heart was broken by the Lord, and crying she told us about the hard situations she was going through with her mother and her partner (both in alcoholism). We all gathered around her and prayed for her.

This month we received the wonderful news that God touched her husband's heart when he saw what was happening in Angela's heart. He began to make changes in his life. God also blessed him with a job that keeps him away from bad friendships.

Leadership classes for youth

The youth studied the importance of discipleship, learning to work with young people from the indigenous territory. Between dynamics and teachings they demonstrated a desire to learn.

Pastry course

For this month of October each student made cornbread, cassava bread and a dessert called Tres Leches. They were amazed to see that they can easily make the recipes. As they were learning to bake, they also were taught about Jesus and the Samaritan woman and received an invitation to correct their mistakes and follow Him.
