Isaiah 40:31 (CEV)

But those who trust the Lord will find new strength. They will be strong like eagles soaring upward on wings; they will walk and run without getting tired.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, receive a big hug from us, and at the same time let us begin a new year with many expectations, trusting in the goodness of the Lord. Just as the passage from Isaiah says, God renews our strength for everything we undertake.

During this month we took on the task of visiting the pastors of the communities where we have taught courses these last four years. We wanted to follow up with them and at the same time take the opportunity to motivate our former students to continue with what they have learned. We also wanted to provide a series of courses so that they can go deeper in the topics we have taught them.

We thank God for each of you who walks with us, supporting us with your prayers and offerings!
