

Esta es la confianza que tenemos al acercarnos a Dios: que, si pedimos conforme a su voluntad, él nos oye.
1 Juan 5:14

Porras family prayer letter

Yorleny, Andy and Manuel

In 1920 a Catholic priest mentioned that man's prayer is the strength and weakness of God.

Jeremiah 29:12-13 says. "Then you will call upon Me, and you will come and pray to Me, and I will hear you; and you will seek Me and find Me, for you will seek Me with all your heart."

We think that the priest is not so far from this biblical text.

God's heart is attentive to our cry and also to our conversations with him.

The privilege that Jeremiah had in speaking with God and mentioning this word in this text shows us that today we can approach the same God of Jeremiah and have long dialogues of Joy, praising and presenting petitions before his throne.

Praises

- . We thank God for the company that has given us this time, where he shows us his support in the work towards the indigenous people.
- . Let's thank each donor who contributes so that the courses reach where they are most needed.
- . We are grateful as a family that God provides us with spiritual and physical strength and his Word feeds us to move forward.
- . We are grateful that our son Andy finished the first semester of college.

Requests

- . For Yorleny's health, her joints are inflamed and there are days she can't get out of bed.
- . For the next semester of our son Andy that he will do well.
- . For a four-wheel drive car that we need for the ministry, to be able to reach the indigenous communities since the area is mountainous and the roads are dirt, and with the rains they are more difficult to travel.
- . For spiritual protection, since in the community where we are working witchcraft is practiced and both the students and we have been affected, may God take control.
- . For the project staff, may God encourage them and may they have their own experiences with God in what they do with the indigenous people.
